

Ellen K. Frederiksen

Ellen will tell about the history from the Norsemen settling in Greenland as farmers and back in 1924 when the pioneer Otto Frederiksen started as the first Greenlander with occupation as sheep farmer only. She will tell a bit about the UNESCO site World Heritage they are part of.

She will talk about the processing and use of wool history from then back to day in Greenland. What challenges they are facing today.

She will tell about their farm and working on tourism. This summer they got new equipment to start up Wool workshops in Qassiarsuk

Title: Sheep hold and wool work 1924 till today in Greenland